CHAPTER 1

UNIVERSITY PROFILE

University Profile :

The D. Y. Patil Education Society Deemed to be University (DYPESDU), Kolhapur has relentlessly pursued its' Vision and Mission that endorse alignment with global, national, and local expectations and demands, since inception in 2005. Originally a health sciences university, 2009 saw the path-breaking foray into innovative, interdisciplinary programs followed by multidisciplinary expansion into hospitality, engineering and allied health science programs; the latter in sync with the call of the NEP 2020.

The health sciences programs, including MBBS, MD, MS, B.Sc Nursing, M.Sc Nursing, Bachelor Physiotherapy, Masters Physiotherapy are designed to provide students with in-demand employability skills. Fellowships in Medical disciplines in 13 niche specialties create expertise in areas that contribute to improved healthcare for the local population as well as the nation. Skill-based undergraduate programs, including B. Optometry, B.Sc in OT Technology, Medical Lab Technology, and Radiography and Imaging Technology, address industry demands. Innovative M.Sc. programs in Medical Physics, Medical Biotechnology, and Stem Cell and Regenerative Medicine offer students a platform for doctoral research progression, international opportunities, industry employment, and cutting-edge research and innovation.

The UGC Quality Mandate (2018) finds echo in the university's adoption of the ten verticals in concept, principle and/or implementation in the various programs. The journey towards quality improvement is notable by the 'A' Grade NAAC accreditations in 2012 and 2017, NABH (2020), NABL (2020), and ISO-9001:2015 Certification (2019 and 2022). These underscore our unwavering commitment to excellence, as does our registration with NDL, NAD, ABC, and Shodhganga.

A fundamental commitment to continuous quality improvement is reflected in all aspects of functioning and governance, through the IQAC. Recent quality initiatives have included updating the Examination Manual, revising our IT policy, and conducting IT Audit, Green Audit, Energy Audit, Gender Audit, Academic and Administrative Audits. DYPESDU has organized International Seminars on Bioethics, and on Nursing Career Perspectives, National Seminars such as Emerging Quality Perspectives in Higher Education (EQUIP-HE) I and II as part of our ongoing commitment to excellence, besides numerous conferences, Workshops and CMEs.

The multi-tiered, multidimensional educational system is supported by transparent and accountable functioning of statutory and non-statutory bodies that promote, direct and ensure the effective operationalization of quality measures. Inclusivity, democracy, participative governance, and decentralization are integral principles embedded in various facets of all decision-making processes. Stakeholder representation, use of feedback, modern management techniques, responsibility-appropriate appointments, fair appraisal systems, are some systems that enable an adaptable system of governance that allows proactive responsiveness to the dynamic, global, educational landscape.

Resource mobilization from government and non-governmental sources promotes active engagement with our local, regional, and national communities across research, healthcare, and education domains. The exceptional teamwork displayed during the COVID-19 pandemic underscored our unwavering commitment to promoting equity and accessibility in healthcare, all while maintaining our strong sense of social accountability. Our response to the crisis involved a comprehensive transformation of our 800 bed hospital into a dedicated COVID-19 facility. We worked closely in collaboration with local district authorities, which allowed us to swiftly establish an NABL-accredited RT-PCR Molecular Biology Lab, a crucial component in the fight against the virus.

Digital technology is an integral facet of our campus environment, enriching the learning experience for our university community. To bolster this, we have established a State-of-the-Art Simulation and Skill Centre, which is equipped with Holo-Lens, 19 Advanced Patient Simulators and 195 skills training models, providing an immersive and advanced learning platform. The impressive 1089 workshops benefiting total of 13,920 learners has been possible due to the efforts of 64 experienced trained university faculty, 7 of who are trained by MAYO Clinic, USA and the support of 17 external experts.

The presence of Wi-Fi accessibility, an Integrated Learning Management System (LMS), automation of Examination System, Software for administration and finance, both Central and Departmental Digital Libraries, Smart Boards, Visualizers, RFID in library, make the campus both efficient, forward looking and technologically meritable. In response to the changing educational landscape, MOOCs (Massive Open Online Courses) have been incorporated in curriculum. Swayam & NPTEL are used by faculty and students for teaching-learning purposes. These resources encourage extensive use of online databases, e-resources, audio-visual teaching aids, and recorded lectures uploaded on LMS. Use of social media platforms for teaching, discussions, mentoring, and interaction have further enhanced the application of digital technology in teaching learning.

Ph.D in interdisciplinary, basic and clinical sciences fuel research activities, and have paved the way for significant expansion of research output and knowledge creation. The last NAAC assessment of five years yielded a SCOPUS h-index of 56, with 30 awarded patents, 32 published patents, 17 granted copyrights, 353 SCOPUS, 305 Web of Science and 74 PubMed publications and 126 books, book chapters, and proceedings. Research funding from government bodies, NGOs, industry partners, and the university itself supports and drives our research initiatives. Research Methodology workshops, Empowering students in research and innovation, provision of seed money and research support, stringent anti-plagiarism guidelines and use of Turnitin software underscore an unwavering commitment to academic integrity, innovation, and professional accountability. Cutting-edge research facilities include the Advanced Instrumentation Facility, Central Research Laboratory, Stem Cell Laboratory, Animal House, Molecular Biology Lab and the APJ Abdul Kalam Incubation Centre. Hosting of DST-Inspire Fellow and DST Ramanujan Fellow and incubation of twenty-six ongoing startups are some laudable activities. The latter has garnered accolades such as the 'Technology Transfer Project' under SERB-TETRA and a National Innovation Award by the Ministry of Education. Faculty capacity building and motivation are an area of deliberate focus, actualized through investment in organizational resources, awards, incentives, seed money, and financial support for patents, copyrights, conference presentations and organization, travel, course registrations, etc. An active Medical Education Unit, soon upgrading to a department, regularly conducts Faculty Development Programs in collaboration with IQAC.

Our commitment to curricular innovation is grounded in Learning Outcome-based Curriculum Framework and Competency-based Medical Education. These underpin all efforts to strengthen graduate attributes, program-specific and program outcomes, and course outcomes, all of which guide learning outcomes to align with skills essential for employability and profession. Collaborations with industry partners and NGOs significantly contribute to the enhancement of our curricula. Inclusion of self-directed learning in the timetable, fosters the growth and future adoption of life-long learning amongst students. The educational progress of our graduates after leaving the university evidences the success of the efforts made in curricular innovation.

The Cadaveric Bios kills Lab, first in Maharashtra, and only third in India, is a unique facility to train students as well as practitioners in surgical skills. The inhouse developed Soft Embalming Fluid (SEF) is key in providing a soft, life-like tissue flexibility to the cadavers allowing the haptics of live surgery for training and upskilling medical professionals.

Holistic student development is realised through offerings of 52 value-added courses, a diverse range of elective courses, promotion of research, mentorship scheme [University Moral Guidance Scheme (UMGS) student mentor ratio is 10:1], NSS, NCC, and Rotaract Club, which aim to ensure student preparedness for employment, their future role in nation-building, and for life. Communication Skill lab activities are integral to fostering professionalism and social readiness, even as the Entrepreneurship Development Cell and Placement Cell nurture leadership among graduates. The Counselling centre, Anti-Ragging Cell, Internal Complaints Committee and Gender sensitization and Women Development Cell provide activities to sensitize and support.

Student values provide foundational strength for their future. Bioethics Unit of the International Chair in Bioethics, Porto and it's active Student Wing play a pivotal role in disseminating information and training to peers and the community through short videos, international seminars, research endeavours, and active participation. The university celebrates important events such as National Vigilance Week, Republic Day, Independence Day, Mahatma Gandhi Jayanti, Doctor's Day, Teacher's Day, Nurses Day, Constitution Day, Savitribai Phule Jayanti, Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Jayanti, Rajarshi Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Jayanti and Swami Vivekananda Jayanti with substantial student participation.

The indoor and outdoor sports infrastructure, Yoga Lab, Music Room facilitate overall student development and underpin their success in competitions on campus and outside. Active and enthusiastic Students Council and Student Clubs/Associations engage and enrich campus life having organized over 50 activities and competitions. Participation of alumni in academic activities, governance, curricular feedback and Quality assurance, provide invaluable perspectives that support continuous improvement. Financial and non-financial contributions of the Alumni Association evidence their connect with the Alma Mater.

2.1 Convocation Address

In eleventh convocation, the Chief Guest Prof. Dr. P. S. Patil, offered following convocation address.

I am honored to be participating in the convocation of D.Y. Patil Education Society-Deemed to be University, at Kolhapur. I understand this University ranks very high among Indian Universities and has received worldwide accolades. Since this is primarily a health-focused institution, most of you are well-trained health professionals and would be, either directly or indirectly, involved in alleviating the sufferings of fellow human beings.

India's health system is largely dependent on doctors. Therefore, the shortage of trained doctors is a serious cause for concern. In spite of having a large number of medical colleges and well-equipped hospitals in this country, the health infrastructure in India is still inadequate for looking after 140 crore people. India has about 10 lakh rural medical practitioners who may sometimes be unregistered, and often are unqualified. However, they are the last resort for crores of rural poor people in India.

In addition to infectious diseases, many of which often come periodically, chronic diseases have also become a leading cause of mortality in India due to rapid urbanization, and unhealthy lifestyles. In fact, this is true in much of the world.

The United Nations described good health and well-being among the sustainable development goals (UNSDGs) in 2015 and has the commitment to fulfil them by 2030. India is committed to fulfilling UNSDGs. One thing that everybody recognizes is, India is a country of enormous untapped potential in the midst of amazing contrasts. India has the intellectual capacity and practical know-how to solve problems in our health systems. Most countries that have achieved universal health coverage have required three to four decades to do so. India should try to achieve this sooner. Evidently, the health professionals graduating today have a big share of responsibility.

Research in health sciences is another domain where a lack of qualified professionals is evident. Typically, doctors tend to focus on clinical practice. However, there is a very high demand for medical professionals to be actively engaged in research. Their training and knowledge can immensely benefit health research. While we have gained enormous knowledge about human health and how to treat a very large number of ailments, there are many unknown health problems that crop up unexpectedly. The recent covid19 pandemic was one of them. Presently, lot many people trained in natural sciences, are conducting research in medical sciences. They are of course valuable for medical research as they bring an entirely different set of skills and therefore provide a different perspective. However, they cannot be substitute for medically trained individuals. If some of you take up research as a career you will be able to do as much for societal benefit as you would do by being practicing doctors. In the USA, for example, quite a few doctors obtain MD-Ph.D. and they work at the interface of patient care and medical research.

Health research implies many things. I will highlight two of them. One is to find a cure, for which drug discovery has been an ongoing effort globally. Another is to prevent the disease. An important preventive measure is the development of vaccines, for which India has been at the forefront.

Vaccines were the major reason for improved health and increasing life expectancy in India during the past 75 years. At the time we became independent, the survival rate of young children was very low. Today, it is enhanced several folds, thanks to vaccination at a very early age in India. In fact, India's universal vaccination program has taught us, health management could be successfully handled through vaccination at an early age.

Interestingly, India has emerged as an important player in the vaccine manufacturing sector. India-manufactured vaccines are exported all over the world. India solely accounts for around 60% of the total vaccines supplied globally. This is perhaps because of the strong emphasis on basic skill development. We have the world's highest number of USFDA-approved manufacturing plants outside the USA and we are the largest supplier of DPT, Measles, and BCG vaccines.

World became witness to India's vaccine manufacturing prowess during the recent COVID-19 pandemic. We were able to cope with the pandemic only due to our capacity to manufacture vaccines locally and at a fast pace.

The 2019 pandemic was caused by infection with a strain of coronaviruses known as SARS-CoV-2. The SARS-CoV-2 is a novel coronavirus that was first identified in Wuhan, China.

While actually of zoonotic origin, SARS-CoV-2 is the seventh coronavirus to date that is known to infect humans. This is due to frequent cross over of the species barriers. We all know how severe and fatal are the illnesses caused by SARS-CoV-2. Unfortunately, novel coronaviruses are likely to cause periodic seasonal spreads, due to their large genetic diversity and frequent recombination events in their genomes. This is further exasperated by an increase in human-animal interface activities.

It is important to note that soon after the early infections were detected, the virus was isolated and completely characterized in terms of its genetics and structure in a few months. The spike protein responsible for anchoring the virus on the cell surface receptor, ACE2, was identified and the complete mechanism of how the virus enters inside the cell was also worked out. All these studies helped make several different vaccines that proved to be highly effective. It also enabled tracking the pandemic and taking precautionary steps as well as designing and developing therapeutic strategies. Two vaccines against covid19 were manufactured in India of which one was indigenously developed.

As on December 2022, 2.2 billion doses of COVID-19 vaccination were administered in India. Covid vaccines made by scientists in India helped over 150 countries. 95% of the Indians have received at least one shot. 4.5 lakh people died in India due to COVID-19. But subsequently, it is estimated that at least 45 lakh deaths could be prevented through an intense vaccination drive. We had the least vaccine hesitancy compared to the rest of the world. India made a humongous record by fully vaccinating 100 crore people against COVID-19 in a record time.

India is also the largest provider of generic drugs globally and is ranked third in terms of pharmaceutical manufacturing by volume. The impetus for generic drugs came from our ability to maintain the low cost of R&D and the abundance of innovative science, technology, and human resources. India is famous as the world's pharmacy, and the biggest supplier of high-quality low-priced generic medicines and vaccines that form the backbone of affordable care throughout the developing world.

While there are many diseases for which we have effective drugs, there are others that still evade us. Also, there is an issue of microbial drug resistance. Therefore, drug discovery seems to be a constantly evolving process. We keep dealing with diseases by discovering newer drugs. The new drug discovery is very lengthy process and can take more than 10 years. Besides, 90% of drugs fail during the later stages of development. This is another important avenue where clinically trained professionals can contribute and help improve the success rate.

Those who will be receiving degrees and awards today are India's investment capital for building a better future. Health is a nation-building strategy. You all are going to be major players in building an aspirational and self-reliant India. All of you will venture out on an adventurous journey. Regardless of where your explorations take you, remember to be generous with your knowledge and time, so that society may benefit from your contributions. Your actions will shape the future of India. Think big, push the limits in all you do, and transform potential into reality.

I congratulate everyone who is being awarded degrees today. Today we celebrate your success, talent, and determination. Remember, there is no magic formula for success. JK Rowling, author of the famous Harry Potter books, said: "We do not need magic to change the world; we carry all the power we need inside ourselves already." You must chart your own path, building on the education and knowledge you gained as a student. Wherever you go, maintain the commitment in pursuit of excellence".

CHAPTER 12

Commitment towards Society

Outreach Programmes

The 800 bedded NABH accredited Dr. D. Y. Patil Medical College Hospital and research Institute is attached to the D Y Patil medical college. This is the training ground of the medical students as well as the students of Nursing and Physiotherapy. Students of these colleges undergo compulsory rotatory internship at this hospital. The hospital is also accredited by ISO 9001-2015 and the molecular lab is NABL accredited. The hospital conducts a number of free health camps in the rural areas around Kolhapur. In the last year 86 health camps were conducted by the hospital where 19566 patients were examined and treated. Those requiring hospitalisation were referred to the hospital.

University-neighborhood Network

The University promotes University Neighbourhood network through the Department of Community Medicine and Dr. D. Y. Patil Medical College Hospital and research Institute. The Department of community medicine organises health camps in the rural and urban areas and also carries out various health surveys. Through its family adoption programme the families are followed up for any health related complaints and are also educated on the preventive aspects of health and importance of good nutritious diet. The students also help the local government for health surveys, and school health programmes carried out by the Kolhapur Municipal corporation and Zilla parishad.

The faculty and Students actively participate in the extension activities organised by the University. The medical college celebrates various days like the World health Day, World Blood donors day, World autism day, through poster presentations and street plays. The University also organises awareness drives like AIDS awareness drive, Anti Tobacco awareness, Cancer awareness, Breast feeding week etc. regularly.

Extension work to ensure Social Justice

Since April 2022, free camps have been started for patients admitted in the Dr. D. Y. Patil medical college Hospital and Research institute whereby all investigations and surgeries are done free of cost. So far 9490 patients have been treated free many undergoing major surgeries under this initiative. OPD registration is also free. The hospital also ensures that the patients are treated either through the Mahatma Jyotirao Phule jan

Arogya yojana which is a state run health scheme or the Pradhan mantri jan Arogya yojana which is the national health scheme. Recently we have also been recognised by the Karnataka state health scheme since Kolhapur being close to the Karnataka border has a lot of patients coming from the nearby areas falling into Karnataka state. These schemes have been a boon to the patients coming from the underprivileged sector.

The hospital also has an indigenous patient fund for treating patients who are BPL. Various other schemes run by the central government are also implemented in the hospital like ESC, ESIS, ECHS, Railway employees scheme, Police Kutumb kalyan Scheme etc. The Rashtriya Bal Suraksha Scheme for the children is a boon for patients with hearing impairments. The patients are operated and undergo cochlear implant procedure free of cost under this scheme.

The Mortuary at the Dr. D. Y. Patil Medical College Hospital and research Institute is utilised by the community free of cost to keep dead bodies in the freezer for a short time till the family members gather for further rituals. Relatives of patients dying in the hospital are counselled for eye donations. Many people have pledged their eyes for donation after their death. The eye bank operates round the clock to ensure that every eye donation counts. Over 15 patients were treated with Keratoplasty in this year from the eyes donated to the hospital and were given the gift of vision.

Regular health check up camps are also organised in the schools and also in the industrial workers on demand. Our team of experts examine these patients and give free advice medications. Those requiring further investigations or operative treatment are advised for admission and are treated free of cost. Children with congenital deafness undergo cochlear implant surgery under the Rashtriya Bal Swasthya Karyakram (RBSK). In ensuring that prevention is better than cure, we undertake a lot of programs in educating people on the preventive aspects of diseases. Participation in the National immunisation programme and the nation wide pulse polio drive is a mandatory activity of the Hospital. Education of the society is also carried out through posters, Rangolis and street plays organised by the students of the University to celebrate various days like the world health day, world Aids day, Breast feeding week and many more.

The hospital engages in all the national Programmes actively. Under the National Tuberculosis elimination program, the patients are investigated and treated free of cost in association with the Government of Maharashtra. Active surveillance to detect new cases of tuberculosis helps in early detection of cases and thus providing impetus to the programme. 55 voluntary blood donation camps were organised by the Hospital in this year and a total of 1889 blood bags were collected. Each blood bag is then stored in the form of blood components which benefits at least 4 recipients out of a single blood bag. The association of the Department of Orthopaedics with The Spine Foundation of India has made remarkable progress and till date 35 patients from the economically poor class who could not afford complex surgeries have undergone surgeries at the Dr. D. Y. Patil medical college Hospital and research institute. This programme is now gaining momentum and has received appreciation from a lot of people. The Rotary club Of Kolhapur has taken cognizance of this good work and has given a generous donation towards buying of specialised equipment's for spine surgeries.

Every year we conduct training and education sessions for the ASHA workers who are the first responders when it comes to women and child health. The ASHA workers are trained to pick up early signs of complications which will enable early referral and proper treatment. Not only in maternal and child health the ASHA workers are also trained in spine care CPR, Cancer detection etc so that they are able to reach the interiors of the state and give proper advice to the people of rural Maharashtra.

The Hospital also engages in giving medical support to the pilgrims going to Pandharpur Dindi Sohala and has medical base camp at the Jyotiba Yatra where around five lakh people come for paying their homage during the annual fair. The hospital also extends support of its ambulance and medical team during various rallies, marathons and sports events held in Kolhapur.

Recognising the work done by the hospital in the NICU and appreciating the efforts taken to upkeep the equipments donated by Rotary club Kolhapur, The Rotary club gave an additional donation of 5 lakhs in the form of necessary equipments. This has greatly benefitted the society as this is the only level III Nicu in the region.
